

Pediatric Nursing Branch Laboratory

Overview

The pediatric nursing laboratory was founded in 2012 on the responsibility of Professor Dr. Iqbal Ghanem Ali and appointed by the conclusion of Mutaskmkamal Technical for the laboratory as part of the requirements for training and developing scientific and practical skills for students of the Faculty of Nursing for Graduate and First Studies in the side of the care of children in various health institutions in Iraq. Children's nursing federation provides additional sources to learn nursing skills in child care, and the test is to perform educational exercises and determine the appropriate goods to implement them by including their actions and ensuring the achievement of educational goals. The laboratory was transferred to the new place in the Deanship of the Faculty of Nursing, the first floor on 6/4/2015, where it is equipped with family, dolls, advanced and revolutionary medical devices for children's care.

Vision

Enabling the student to improve the quality of nursing performance and develop their practical skills. Empowering cadres of graduates with scientific capabilities and highly applied processes in the specialization of satisfactory solutions and medical sponsors. The pediatric nursing laboratory also works to contribute to the service of the community on a way to organize the lectures and symposiums with a tariff target Health for Iraqi members.

Mission

Helping the student to identify and diagnose the needs of the executive plan and make them and then evaluate the results by implementing a stomach curriculum that achieves nursing goals. Developing the efficiency of the academic students, research, scientific and practical. Working to qualify for the segment of the section and associating them at the end of what science has reached in the field of child care so that they can be able to continue their higher studies in the field of their specialization, inside or outside the country.

Objectives

Improving the student's capabilities by applying self-learning and developing practical skills

Providing a student with a wide range of skills in pediatric nursing.

Continuous update of knowledge and skills with regard to children's care in health and disease.

The number of various scientific research in the medical, health and environmental fields.

Establishing workshops and different courses to train different cadres, including training and professional on modern technologies, developed devices and laboratory resolutions.

Distinguishing in training and learning patterns by providing an environment are generous education environment based on the basics of practicing based on the guide.

Quality policy and administration pledge at the pediatric nursing laboratory

1- We work to achieve administrative and technical requirements for practices from in order to achieve the requirements of the labor market and the beneficiaries, development and continuous improvement.

2- Establishing services permanently.

3- Follow up on developments and modern technology.

4- We do not give up transparency, honesty, confidentiality and impartiality in our work.

5- The laboratory must provide his services permanently, especially in the field of his approval.

6- Continuous training for our employees to ensure performance and efficiency in order to reach the highest levels.